CHARLES' ROLL

OF THE REIGNS OF

HENRY III. AND EDWARD I.

EDITED BY

GEORGE J. ARMYTAGE, F.S.A.

JUNE 1869.

LONDON:

JOHN RUSSELL SMITH, 36, SOHO SQUARE.

PREFACE.

THE Editor regrets that at the time of announcing his intention to print the following Roll, he was unaware of its previous publication, in the Archæologia, vol. xxxix., p. 418, in connection with another of the same period belonging to the Society of Antiquaries of London, or he would otherwise have chosen one that had not been previously edited, for the Second number of this Series.

A copy in trick of this Roll occurs in Harl MS. 6589 fol. 47-58, in the hand-writing of Nicholas Charles,* stated by him to have been copied from the Original which Norroy† lent to him in 1607, from which the following blazon is taken.

There is another copy also in trick, in Harl MS. 6137, in some few instances supplying words that are indistinct, or omitted in Charles's copy.

The Roll contains 677 Shields of Arms, in rows of nine each, of these 654 are complete, as regards the surname and blazon, either in one copy or the other. Of the remaining 23 Shields, we can attribute the names of 11 from contemporary or earlier Rolls, 5 from Rolls of a subsequent date, and with the exception of two coats, Nos. 152 and 530, to which we have ventured to suggest the names without authority, there remain only five, Nos. 273, 333, 382, 459, and 461, to which at present it appears difficult to find the names of the bearers. It is hoped that by placing these facts before the heraldic world, that these few doubts may be cleared, and any communication will be gratefully acknowledged, and much esteemed by the Editor.

This Roll does not appear to have been made for any special purpose, nor at any fixed period; we find coats in it of persons who died even before the date of "Glover's" Roll, and yet there are other coats which could not have been borne before quite the end of the thirteenth century.

The general inclination is to suppose that the Roll is a Collection of Arms of the several Barons and Knights that came more particularly under the compiler's notice about the end of the thirteenth Century. The nearest date that could be assigned to the completion of the Roll, would be about 1295. Many instances could be named for this assumption, but those who are anxious to satisfy themselves on these points, are referred to Mr. Perceval's able preface to this and the Antiquaries' Roll in the thirty-ninth volume of the Archæologia.

As to the Heraldry of this Roll, it displays some of the finest Examples of cadency and early heraldic charges, that are to be met with anywhere. These have been most ably treated by Mr. Planché in his "Pursuivant of Arms," and by Mr. Boutell in his valuable "Heraldry," and in both cases, most admirably illustrated by woodcuts.

The Editor prefers not to offer any further remarks on the Rolls, without a larger number before him for comparison, and hopes, as stated in the Preface to Glover's Roll, to be able eventually to make a Review of the whole, accompanied by a general Index.

In offering his thanks to the Public for their appreciation of his slight trouble, the Editor cannot help expressing his special thanks to Chas. S. Perceval, Esq., F.S.A., for the kind assistance rendered to him by the communication of a copy of his privately printed Ordinary to the Rolls edited by Mr. W. S. Walford and himself, and in other ways.
